VALUES ACTIVITY SHEET

Below is a list of some of the values that may be important to you.

For warm-up

Pick 8 that are important to you. Put a star next to them. Then look up their definition in a dictionary and write definition on the line.

For homework (due next class)

On lined paper, pick 5 of your 8 that are starred. Write the value, underline it, and then describe in 5-6 sentences why this value is important to you. Skip a line between each description.

Example:

Knowledge

Knowledge is important in my life because I know that the more education you get the better financial living you will have. I have seen some members of my family not complete high school and they have struggled for many years to provide for their families. The people in my family that have college educations are doing better and have more luxuries (vacations, new cars, bigger houses, etc.) There are many things you can lose in life, but once you have an education it can never be taken from you. This is why it is so important to my husband and I that are kids get college educations.
